NO. 7

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

"The Lancaster Burlesque Company" played at the Opera House on Tuesday night to one of the largest and most appreciative audiences that ever assembled in this town. The receipts were about $150 and everybody was delighted with the novel and realistic performance. The boys all did well, but especial mention has been made of J. M. Farra, Fleece Robinson, J. M. Rothwell, Claude Wherritt, T. J. Hood, S. C. Denny, Capt. Lether Owlesy, John Doty, A. G. Scott, James Dillon, J. F. Lear and L. D. Hollingsworth. The boys think of visiting some of the neighboring towns and if they do they should receive a hearty welcome.

—Monday was county court day and while there was a large crowd in town there was very little business transacted. There were about 250 head of cattle on the market, but prices ranged so high that there were but few sales made. Quite a number of plug horses and mules changed hands at the usual prices. It was the regular "horse show" day and an unusually large number of fine stallions brought upon the public square just after dinner. I only succeeded in getting a partial list of them which is as follows: Huguey's Delegate and Woodsprite, Embry's Brown, mount and Momento, Currey's Brilliant, Gill's Touhouster and McGrath, Flikin's Arthur Simms 3041 and Wyandotte 5526, Underwood's Chance, Walker's McCrae and Orange Wilkes, Dunn's Breeze Wilkes, Bright's Lucifer and lots of other fine ones. Taking it altogether it was the best show of fine horses we have had for a long time. The day passed off quietly, not a single arrest being made.

—R. Walton Eastland and Graham Price, of Danville, came over Tuesday night to attend the entertainment "Order of Hercules." Harry Giovanoli of the Advocate was here in the interest of that paper Monday. We are exceedingly glad to state that Mr. R. E. Hughes is able to be out again, after a long and serious attack of the grippe. The genial John Farris of your town was here Monday mingling with his numerous Garrard friends. He drove the handsome black stallion "George Dictator," a half brother to Jay Eye See. John will not pull the ribbons over any thing but a good one. A. M. Kinnard, of Middleborough, was here Tuesday. J. H. Brown and family are visiting in Mt. Vernon. Willie Dunlap has returned from the Sanibel Islands. Mrs. M. H. Owlesy has been quite sick for several days. Mrs. W. G. Dunlap and daughter, Eugenia, are visiting at R. A. Burnsides. J. M. Logan has returned from Middleborough. Mrs. Joseph Mount, of La Grange, Ky., is visiting her brother, R. E. McRoberts.

The con. con. committee on the location of the capitol listened attentively to seven hours of spread eagle oratory and at its conclusion it is said that they announced individually and collectively that what they had heard had not changed the views of a single member. So much for oratory, and its effects. What is needed is more common sense and less wind.

A friend over the way sends kindly greetings to that accomplished young attorney, P. M. McRoberts. It is a pleasure to convey such a message to one who is both a gentleman and a scholar. Whether in the walks of private life or the duties incident to his profession his record will always be bright and clean. The older people remember with veneration his distinguished father, than whom Kentucky never produced a better or more estimable citizen.

The literary critic of the Louisville Times has a poor opinion of the novel recently issued from the press, by H. H. Smith, delegate to the con. con., entitled "The Downfall of a Politician." As most of the politicians of the present day never rise very high, they do not have very far to fall, when they commence their downward career, which, sooner or later is the fate of the demagogue and shyster. Mr. Smith's nom de plume is "Bell Eli;" and if the Times is right, Eli needs to be belled.

Hon. John Young Brown, addressed an immense audience at the court-house on Monday, county court day. His claims for the nomination were presented with becoming modesty and while making an able, eloquent and earnest presentation of the cause he represents he referred to the opposite party with that courtesy that always characterizes the gentleman who understands and observes the proprieties of life. He evidently made a fine impression upon the democracy of Garrard.

On the 26th of February Mr. Marion Biggs, of California, made a speech in the House of Representatives in which he said: "My friend from New York, Mr. Spinola, talks about the heroes who suffered during the revolution. It is well enough. Mr. Chairman, to honor our illustrious forefathers, to emulate their patriotism and pluck, and teach our children to do the same; but the distresses of the living are more important than the heroic actions of the dead." As

Mr. Spinola, in referring to our illustrious forefathers, evidently had no intention of underrating the distress of the living, it is difficult to discern the propriety of Mr. Biggs' remarks. He asked how do the sufferings of our revolutionary heroes compare with those of the honest toiler on our mortgage-ridden farms? As there is no similarity in the mode of suffering referred to, statesman Biggs' question is not easy of solution. He then pounced upon poor Representative Cannon, of Illinois, and gave him a tongue lashing, the like of which has never before been heard in the Capitol of the nation. He called him "the wind-up object" and said that the castigation he received in November had not caused him to open his eyes to the errors of his ways or made him repent in sack cloth and ashes. Mr. Biggs also said that "fortunately he was a farmer instead of a lawyer or a professional man," and therein Mr. Biggs was right. Any man who is able to own a farm ought to thank his stars that he has one and that he can make a living without having to resort to a profession; but as every one is not the owner of a farm, Mr. Biggs will readily see that there are other honorable vocations in which men are justified in earning their daily bread. Mr. Biggs complains of many things that have been done in the interest of capitalists, but nothing exceeds his contempt for the imposition of a tax of 5¢ a dozen on eggs, which, he says, has increased their price beyond the regular cold weather quotations. He then referred to beans and said, "Beans—the idea of 50 cents a bushel on beans—pray who is affected by this measure except our Massachusetts brothers?" The speaker is evidently mistaken in the assumption that the use of beans is confined to the State of Massachusetts; but if the price of the article, affected none except our Massachusetts brothers, why should our California brother allow his mind to be disturbed upon that subject? Mr. Biggs is doubtless a statesman as well as a farmer, but notwithstanding his fondness for eggs, it is doubtful whether he could set a hen on a hill side, or tell the difference between beans and peas with his eyes shut. He states that he only had the privilege of attending school three months out of the year and worked the other nine, and in conclusion, congratulated himself upon the fact that he had given his four sons a college education, and had taught them how to use every implement upon a farm from a gimlet up to a threshing machine. Unhappy Mr. Biggs! We tender you a dozen eggs with beans as an accompaniment. Whether they were laid by Kentucky democratic hens, republican hens or farmers alliance hens, is a matter of but little consequence; they are good all the same. Will you have them scrambled, poached, soft boiled or hard? Pull down the bars and turn the farm boys into the harvest field, while you devour the eggs and cuss congress and the gold bugs.

WAYNESBURG.

—A. L. McKenzie, formerly of this place, died Sunday, Mar. 15, at his home in Middletown.

—L. D. Garner, of Crab Orchard, bought of E. B. Caldwell, three 3-year-old steers for $90 last week.

—Calvin Miller, of Alliance, Ohio, was here one day last week. James Lee and wife, of Alabama, are visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Wm. Smith and wife, of South Fork, are the guests of M. T. Reynolds. M. F. Padgett and family, of Jamestown, are visiting his mother, Mrs. Ermine Padgett.

—Mrs. Doccia Trusty, who has been very sick with pneumonia for the past week, is convalescing. Arad K. Caldwell, who is attending Centre College, was home with his parents a few days of last week. Mrs. E. S. Gooch, of Somerset, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Ermine Padgett, returned home last week.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Leave your orders with J. S. Edminster for a nice spring suit.

—Ladies, you should see the celebrated patent adjustable ladies' shoes before buying. Call on or address J. S. Edminster, Gen. Agt.

—Having sold out my business I desire to settle up with the world and respectfully ask those indebted to me to please come forward and settle. J. F. Holdman.

Professor Charles A. Young, the eminent Princeton astronomer, recently sat chatting in the court of the Palace. One of his listeners could not refrain from asking him in an off-hand way;

"What is to you the most wonderful and startling fact of astronomy?"

"A fact that your great Lick telescope reveals about 100,000,000 of stars, and that every one of them is a sun, theoretically and by analogy giving light and heat to his planets. You know the Lick telescope reveals stars so small that it would require 30,000 of them to be visible to the naked eye."

Reports show a squeeze in the lemon market.

W. P. WALTON.

THE newspapers are saying a great many nice things about the sick editor; the dear women are hourly remembering him with delicacies and the good people of this entire section have most kindly offered helping hands. He appreciates all this of course, but at present is compelled to remain silent on the subject. However, when he gains health and strength he will be heard from on that score and will try to show his appreciation of their kindnesses that have been so unstinted extended him. We who so humbly, as well as unworthily, fill the chair in the sanctum sanctorum during his confinement are also thankful for the kind manifestations of interest toward the editor from these people, who are truly God's elect, and trust that should we not be able to repay them for their great goodness, "the Giver of all good and perfect gifts" will do so when they shall meet Him face to face to receive their reward. Below we give a few clippings from our esteemed contemporaries, which speak in very complimentary tones of the sick editor and which we assure the writers, go a long way toward alleviating the pain and varying the monotony attendant to a long spell:

"His many friends both within and without the newspaper craft are distressed by reports of the continued serious illness of Mr. W. P. Walton, of the STANFORD INTERIOR JOURNAL. He is suffering from an attack of pneumonia, aggravated by his courageous but indiscreet refusal to take to his bed until he could no longer keep upon his feet. If good wishes possess any medicinal efficacy he will quickly be restored to his field of usefulness."—Louisville Times.

"Editor Walton, of the INTERIOR JOURNAL, is suffering from an attack of la grippe, a complaint that has spared but few persons in this section this winter. This is poor consolation for our esteemed neighbor, but as he is up with the procession in everything else he could hardly expect to escape an ailment that is so fashionable. We trust, however, his indisposition will be brief and unaccompanied by serious illness. In the meantime his excellent paper is in most excellent hands."—Danville Advocate.

"Editor Walton, of the STANFORD INTERIOR JOURNAL, is very sick with pneumonia. Mr. Walton's serious illness means a great deal to the newspaper business of Kentucky and we wish him a speedy recovery."—The Elizabethtown Times.

The following telegram was received yesterday:

FRANKFORT, Mar. 26, '91.—Tell Will I think of him daily and long to hear that he is well again. Wire me his condition.

A NEWS paragraph in reference to the race for Auditor, recently published in the INTERIOR JOURNAL, seems to have been seized upon by Maj. Norman as a casus belli, and became the occasion of the late animated passage at arms between the Major and Mr. R. C. Warren at Bowling Green. In justice to Mr. Warren we rise to say that he did not inspire and was in no wise responsible for that article. In point of fact we do not run Mr. Warren, though we favor his election, nor does Mr. Warren run this paper. It is in fact no man's organ, stands on its own "paster joints" and is published for $2 per year, strictly in advance.

In justice to Maj. Norman we, while we are up, will say also that no reflection was meant upon his character as a man or democrat. What we did mean, to be plain, was this: Maj. Norman held from the beginning of Gen. Hewitt's term, and by his appointment the most important and lucrative position in the auditor's office. His relation to Hewitt was of the closest. When Gen. Hewitt resigned the position of auditor Maj. Norman, through his influence, was appointed his successor. He has been there 12 years and is thoroughly identified with the administration of that office. We do not desire unnecessarily to stir up an old stench, but it is notorious, and indeed has been judicially determined by the highest court of the State, that, but for gross carelessness and neglect of duty in that office during the time mentioned, the Tate defalcation and looting of the treasury could not have occurred. Doubtless, as we are glad to believe, this failure to discharge a plain statutory duty was occasioned, not by bad or improper motives, but by misplaced and unwarranted confidence in the integrity of Mr. Tate. But all the same it resulted in a great scandal and loss of public money, and the democratic party is naturally sought to be held responsible for it. The nomination of Mr. Norman, Hewitt's intimate and an appointee, who has required past favors by giving to Gen. Hewitt's brother the best and most responsible position in the office, would be construed by the people of the State as an endorsement and continuation of the Hewitt administration. That administration was in many particulars a most admirable one, and is defensible we believe in all particulars, but we do not regard it as good party policy to invite a campaign in which the democracy would be put on the defensive from the start. We regard it as distinctly a bad policy. The feeling to this effect is deep-seated and wide-spread and should be heeded in the next convention. It means nothing against the personal character or standing of Maj. Norman, but it means, or should mean, a great deal indeed against his availability as a candidate of the democratic party for auditor.

BABBOURVILLE claims that the recent term of court held there caused a general reformation of the condition of affairs. Reformation is the one particular thing the county of Knox has needed for many years. Let us hope to hear of good reports only from that county now. She has certainly sent out her share of bad ones.

THE various bank failures reported over the entire country goes to prove that there is either a decided deficiency of filthy lucre in circulation at present or that the crop of rascals this year is in excess of those for a number of years.

YOUNG HEARST, the son of the dead Senator, is going to start a daily paper in New York with the $20,000,000 left him by his father. Can it be that the young man wants all of the good things this world affords?

JAMES B. MARTIN, of Barren county, is announced as candidate to succeed Mr. Longmoor. Mr. Martin is a splendid democrat, a capital gentleman and would make No. 1 Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

THREE drunken men were ejected from the White House Tuesday. Can it be that Benjamin is dealing in spiritus frumenti?

—James Watt, the dissipated son of a California millionaire, died in 10-cent lodgings in New York City. Young men beware.

—Anderson, Greene & Co., wholesale dry goods, notions, etc., have assigned at Nashville. Liabilities, $120,000; assets, $200,000.

—Col. W. O. Bradley thinks that Harrison will be renominated for the presidency and that he will have no serious opposition.

—Gen. John C. Lee, at one time lieutenant governor of Ohio, and a conspicuous officer during the war, is dead at Toledo, O.

—In the recent death lists of nearly all the large cities pneumonia is credited with a larger number of victims than is consumption.

—In a wreck on the Northwestern & Racine, one man was killed and five were dangerously hurt.

—The treasury department has issued warrants to pay $646,958 to Missouri and $769,144 to Indiana under the Direct Tax Refunding act.

—The steamer Strathairly, went ashore not far from Forfole and out of a crowd of 26, 19 were drowned.

—The plan of congressional redistricting in Pennsylvania gives 16 districts to the republicans, 10 to the democrats and leaves four doubtful.

—A resolution was introduced in the constitutional convention yesterday to provide laws for the better regulation of State and private banks.

—The mortality from la grippe is most appalling. Up to midnight on March 25 for two weeks the deaths aggregated 2,540, of 35 per 1,000, which is unprecedented.

—Charles E. Kincaid is being tried at Washington for the killing of W. P. Taulbee. His jury has 4 colored men on it. The trial will probably last all the week.

—Deputy Warden J. W. Marshall, of the penitentiary, shot and killed Reuben Collier, an insubordinate negro prisoner. Collier had refused to obey the deputy warden's order.

—Sam Stewart, of Jackson county, Tenn., was pardoned by the governor on a case of concealed weapons, because he had just become the father of triplets—boys—one 11 the others 10 pounds each.

—Since Collector Scott has been in office penalties have been collected from fully 500 dealers in either liquor or tobacco who have failed to pay the taxes imposed upon them by the government.

—It is reported from Pittsburgh that the Baltimore and Ohio company has decided to parallel the Pennsylvania Company's lines from end to end, and that Andrew Carnegie will be the new president of the B. & O.

—The real majority of the committee on capitol location, composed of six of the eleven members of the committee, have agreed to recommend to the constitutional convention the submission to the people of the capitol location question.

—A mob gathered around the Mt. Zion jail, Wednesday night to make short work of the Wiggintons, who poisoned Messrs. Ferguson and Watts, but the county judge caught on to their proceedings and after making a speech to them the mob dispersed.

—Chris. Abegglen, a wealthy farmer near Milan, Ind., committed suicide by blowing off his head with a shot-gun. He placed the muzzle of the gun against the side of his head, and fired it off. The load of shot tore off all that portion of his head above the ears, and scattered portions of the skull and brains for 20 feet around him.

—John Mount, the oldest criminal in the world, died last week in Covington at 92 years of age. He had served terms in the penitentiaries of Kentucky, Missouri, Ohio and Indiana, for all kinds of crimes except murder. He spent over 50 years in prison, but for the past 15 years he had been living quietly at his home in Covington.

—The national committee of the Afro-American Press Association called upon President Harrison and presented to him an address full of praise for the fairness with which he has treated the colored race. It is very plain that the colored brothers were dealing in irony. If the president has done anything to speak of for the colored race it has escaped our sight.

—The biggest soap manufacturing concern in the world has been organized at Houston, Texas. The corporation will have a capital of $15,000,000 and proposes to establish plants to cost from $50,000 to $200,000 in Houston, New Orleans and other cities in the cotton belt.

—A company has been organized at Knoxville with a capital stock of $10,000,000, its object being the founding of a great manufacturing city in the healthy highlands of East Tennessee, which are so wealthy in timber, iron, coal and other mining and agricultural resources.

MEANS BUSINESS.

YOUR account is due and ready. Call and settle and oblige A. R. Penny.

PERSONAL POINTS.

M. J. M. WRAY continues quite ill. LESS WILSON has returned to Lexington.

MISS BETTIE PAXTON has returned to Louisville.

PEARSON MILLER is threatened with typhoid fever.

LITTLE GEORGE MENEKEE is very sick with pneumonia.

J. M. WILLIAMS, of Mt. Vernon, is with friends here.

MISS LIZZIE TWIDWELL, of Hustonville, was in the city Tuesday.

CAPT. W. N. TALLIFERRO of the K. C. was in to see us yesterday.

JAMES HARDIN, of Monticello, has been visiting his brother, Mark Hardin.

MESSES HARVE HIRLM and O. V. RILEY, of Pineville, have been attending court here.

MRS. THOMAS RICHARDS, of Junction City, attended the burial of Mrs. L. M. Bruce.

M. C. E. JONES, of Middlesboro, passed through Wednesday to visit relatives at Monticello.

CAPT. W. J. WASH, Road Master of the K. C. division of the L. & N., was in town Tuesday.

MR. T. R. WALTON, of Atlanta, Ga., arrived yesterday to see his brother who still remains very ill.

MRS. JOHN BELL GIBSON and the baby went to Williamsburg yesterday to visit Mrs. Gibson's mother.

MR. W. L. CHANDLER has returned from Liverpool, Fla., where he has been engaged for several months.

MESSES. G. W. McCLOURE, D. C. POYNTER and JACK ADAMS, of Mt. Vernon, have been attending court here.

MISS BETTIE CHURCH who has been visiting Mrs. J. D. McDugald has returned to her home at Stockton, Mo.

MRS. MARGARET DUNN, of Garrison, passed through Tuesday to visit Mrs. THOS. RICHARDS, at Junction City.

L. M. REID, a most excellent young man of the West End, leaves this week to make his home at Longview, Ala.

MRS. H. C. FARRIS and Mrs. MARK HARDIN have both been quite sick, but we are glad to state that they are much better.

WHEN a call from one of the prettiest girls in the West End, or any other end, as far as that is concerned, fails to revive the editor he must be a very sick man indeed.

P. G. HAMILIN, manager, and W. B. POWELL, advance representative of George Hamlin company, were in the city Thursday. They carry thirteen people with the show.

MR. AND MRS. G. P. BRIGHT have returned from a six weeks' stay at Hot Springs. Mrs. Bright is considerably improved, but the baths did not agree with Mr. Bright, who had quite a spell while there.

JOHN R. FARRIS has taken charge of Mr. M. S. Baughman's trotters and we may look out for the development of phenomenals. Mr. F. is an excellent horseman, a splendid trainer and knows how to handle the lines on a race track.

CITY AND VICINITY.

REMEMBER the sale of the Henry Hester farm to-day.

TAKE your eggs to Joe S. Jones and get 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents per dozen.

ALL kinds of fresh candies, fruits, etc. just received at R. Zimmer's.

N. Y. SEED POTATOES, Onion Sets and Garden Seeds at A. A. Warren's

FINE "Toulon" goose eggs for sale at $1 per dozen. Mrs. B. W. Gaines.

NORTHERN white oats and timothy just received. B. K. & W. H. Wearen.

MR. R. C. WARREN requests us to state that he will speak at Carlisle Saturday at 1 o'clock, and that Blackburn, Green and Norman are cordially invited to be on hand.

I HAVE just returned from the cities with an elegant assortment of spring millinery and cordially invite the ladies to call and examine my stock. Mrs. Kate Elkin.

DAVE HATCHER, of this county, was run over and killed by freight train at Dillon's Switch Wednesday night. He was head sawyer for W. R. Dillon and was a good man in his business.

THE entertainment heretofore announced to be given by the pupils of the College will be at Walton's Opera House on Friday evening, April the 3d. The public will bear in mind that the proceeds will be devoted to important improvements on the College grounds and that the general admission will be only 25 cents. There is good reason for saying that the entertainment will be the most beautiful one ever given by school girls in Stanford.

FRESH lot of Zeigler Bros. shoes at S. H. Shanks'.

SAWED shingles and fence lumber for sale by J. B. Foster.

GOOD work horse for sale. Will sell cheap. M. F. Elkin & Co.

HEAD-LIGHT fire proof oil to be found at B. K. & W. H. Wearen's.

THE North-bound passenger jumped the track at Altamont Tuesday and delayed it about 3 hours. Fortunately the train was running very slowly and little or no damage was done, save a severe shaking up of the passengers.

THE Woody Bros. have written that they will arrive Tuesday and will begin their session of 12 lessons immediately. The hundred scholars have all been secured and the session promises to be both interesting and instructing. The Prebyterian Church will be used this time.

MORE COMPLAINT.—Gen. T. T. Garrard, of Manchester, writes that it takes from 4 to 6 days for the INTERIOR JOURNAL to get to his post-office. There is no reason that it should take longer than a day to reach Manchester and we shall investigate things and see where the fault lies.

A MAGISTRATE of Montgomery county committed suicide by jumping in a well. It is very evident from his rash action that the Montgomery "Squire" does not think as much of his office as the "Squires" in this neck of the woods do, or else he would have never shuffled off this mortal coil on his own account. Not until his time of holding office had expired anyway.

THE Easter service of sacred music, tableaux and recitations at the Christian church to-morrow evening at 7:30 promises to be a thoroughly enjoyable entertainment. The best talent in town will take part and as the participants have taken much pains in their work we trust their labors will be well rewarded. Go and thereby help a good cause. Admission only 25 cents.

EIGHT DOWN WITH MEASLES.—Mr. Moses Coffey, of McKinney, has had a fearful time with measles in his family. All eight of his children were down at once and all were extremely sick. His youngest, some 7 months old, died Tuesday and several other members of his family are dangerously low. Three have sufficiently recovered, however, to be of some service in waiting on the others.

TAKE the Georgia Hamlin Co. opened a two nights' engagement last evening in John R. Music's strong comedy, "Little Vic." The audience, while by no means in proportion to the merits of the company, was delighted with the performance and its approval was demonstrated by frequent and continuous applause. The dual role of Little Vic and Corduroy Bill fits Miss Hamlin well and her versatility is displayed to good advantage.—The little lady is not only an accomplished vocalist and a graceful dancer, but she is an actress of high order of talent. She won friends last evening from the first and succeeded in placing herself in the estimation of the audience with such well-known soubrettes as Katie Putnam, Patti Rosa, Lizzie Evans and others. The entire company is well balanced and the pleasure of the evening was very much enhanced by an excellent orchestra.—Hopkinsville (Ky.) New Era. At Walton's Opera House, Wednesday evening, April 1.

BUT few people have been in attendance at circuit court so far and the spring term is proving a very dull one. In fact there is not enough litigation to induce the visiting attorney to honor Stanford with his presence, and the consequence is our home attorneys have about done all the business so far.

The standing jury is as follows: G. R. Engleman, Sidney Dunbar, J. G. Smith, C. Vanoy, Wm. Cash, Wm. Perkins, Jos. Swope, N. W. Sampson, S. S. Myers, T. J. Hill, S. M. Spoonamore, Robert McAlister, Alex Beazley, J. A. Chappell, W. H. Clore, Jno. Dinwiddie, George Peyton.

THE several whisky cases against the Myers House and Portman House bars, which indictments were found last court, were pardoned by the governor, and Judge Morrow filed the two against Anderson Carr away. Charlie Armstrong was fined $20 for gaming; William Gooch and William Gaddis were each given 10 days in jail and fined $25 for carrying concealed weapons. Gooch was acquitted in one concealed weapon case and his case for disturbing religious worship was continued.

DICK LOGAN's case for giving whisky to a minor was filed away with leave to re-instate. Bet Buford and Viney Harlan, two Macksvillians, were acquitted on the charge of selling liquor unlawfully. The cases of James Graves, horse stealing and Josh Graves for receiving stolen property, both indictments found this court, are set for to-day. Harrison Hickman was given one year in the penitentiary for robbing the house of C. C. Withers.

THE entire of Thursday was taken

FRESH fish on Wednesdays and Saturdays at M. F. Elkin & Co.'s.

WANTED.—Pupils in shorthand by an experienced stenographer. Address him at this office.

FLOWER crocks of every description at A. A. Warren's Model Grocery.

HAND BURNED.—Mr. Thomas Dalton, the jeweler at A. R. Penny's, had his right hand severely burned while working with alcohol.

"THE first flowers to go over the foot lights of Potter's Opera House to an actress were presented to Miss Georgie Hamlin, the accomplished little soubrette by admiring friends, last night"—Park City (Bowling Green) Daily Times, Mar. 24. At Walton's Opera House, April 1.

KILLED.—J. A. Burke, railroad agent at Cumberland Gap, was shot dead by a negro Wednesday night. Mr. Burke was agent for the L. & N. at Shelby City for years and married a sister of the late Marshal George Wells, who was killed at Junction City. The negro has been captured.

ONE of the editor's dearest little friends divided the strawberries her gentle friend sent her from Florida with the editor, but unfortunately he could not eat them. Many other ladies have further endeared themselves to him by frequently remembering him with delicacies and visits, all of which he greatly appreciates.

TRROUBLE is brewing between the coal operators and miners in the Laurel and Jellico districts. The miners want an eight-hour day and pay for coal before it is screened. The operators at a meeting declared themselves unanimously against these demands. They expect a strike on May 1, but say they will be ready for it.

THE Danville Advocate reports the sale of a lot of "14,000-pound cattle." Our esteemed contemporary should by all means start a subscription list to buy them and present them to the next circus that comes along. Danville would then have a death hold on that kind of amusements and that little town which hasn't even got water works might get its fill of the clowns' funny sayings which so delight the average Danvillian.

TAKEN HOME FOR TRIAL.—Sheriff Skidmore, of Harlan, and Deputies Bailey, Skidmore, Coldiron and Noel took Sidney Lewis, fratricide, and John Howard, charged with murder, to Harlan Court-House yesterday for trial. They were met at Corbin with a large posse, who will see that the prisoners reach their destination in safety. Deputy Bailey, is the man who went to California and identified Wils Howard and is one of Harlan's best citizens. The Howard factions killed a couple of his uncles and it is said that he has spent some $2,000 in prosecuting various members of that faction. The sheriffs were all armed with shot guns, Winchesters and Colts 44s and resembled a little army as they marched the prisoners to the depot. Sheriff Skidmore says that the killing of Judge Lewis by his son is unparalleled in atrocity and that it is generally conceded that it was a conspiracy between the mother and son. It is believed that young Lewis will plead that the killing was done in self defense.

DEATHS' DOINGS.—

—The biblical quotation, "In the midst of life we are in death," was thoroughly exemplified Tuesday morning when Mrs. I. M. Bruce's spirit took flight to a better world. The picture of health and happiness one day, a pale corpse the next. It was a surprise to everybody as well as a severe shock to the many who knew Mrs. Bruce intimately. It was a blow to a loving husband that time can not wear away and a loss to a daughter that is irreparable. In the writer's sojourn of 10 years here there has been no sadder day in Stanford than Wednesday, when all that was earthly of Mrs. Bettie Bruce was consigned to mother earth. With a disposition that was sunshine itself; with a character absolutely lovely and a heart full of love for her innumerable friends, with her death passes away a model woman. Mrs. Bruce was sick just 12 hours, but those were hours of excruciating pain and although opiates were used the suffering was so intense they did little or no good. Her disease was embolism, which is virtually apoplexy, and from the time she was taken ill till her death she did not rally sufficiently to recognize her kind husband, who could have borne his great loss easier had he at least been able to bid her a final farewell. Mrs. Bruce was Miss Bettie Purdon and had been married nearly 19 years. Four children blessed the union, but only little Miss Mary who is now quite ill, survive her. She had been a devout member of the Presbyterian church for 21 years and no one was more willing to further any good cause suggested by her church than she. In fact she had intended going to a meeting to prepare for a church supper when she was taken ill. Mrs. Bruce was a great friend to the poor and to the sick and distressed and there are many to-day who speak her praise and are saddened by the thought that her kind attentions have ceased forever. May the good Lord care for her soul and may the sod lie gently on the mound that marks the resting place of a true and affectionate wife, a loving mother and a friend to one and all. In the hour of their great bereavement Mr. Bruce and Miss Mary have the sympathy of the entire community and with this and the assurance that Mrs. Bruce is reaping her reward in a brighter world above, we trust that they may be able to say, "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away; blessed be the name of the Lord."

"'Tis hard to break the tender cord, When love has bound the heart; 'Tis hard so hard, to speak the words, Must we forever part?"

Rev. Ben Helm preached a most appropriate and touching funeral service at the Presbyterian church Wednesday morning and in the large assembly there was hardly a dry eye. Flowers in profusion covered the casket, which was also a testimonial of the esteem in which Mrs. Bruce was held. After the service the large concourse of friends followed the remains to Buffalo cemetery where it was gently laid to rest.

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to thank with a heart full of gratitude the many who assisted and proffered their assistance in my hour of bereavement and trouble. It was a kind manifestation of that true friendship that God helping me I shall never forget. Very Gratefully,

I. M. BRUCE.

—A religious cyclone has struck Stanford and a big revival is now in progress at both Methodist and Baptist churches. They have been having large gatherings every night for the last two weeks. The meeting at the Methodist church has been conducted by Rev. J. P. West, of Georgetown. He was compelled to go home Saturday last but is expected to return at an early day. He has made quite an impression among the people here. Rev. W. H. Crowder, of Richmond, is expected to conduct the meeting this week. He is quite an interesting preacher and the people will all do well to hear him. Rev. Elijah Wethers is conducting the meeting at the Baptist church and it looks as though the meetings at the two churches will bring about quite a reformation among the people of Stanford. It is much needed; God give them success. Miss Alice Carr is back from Berea. She will not return this term.—The Missionary Society will meet at the Methodist church Easter Sunday, 29th. There will be an interesting programme in connection with the Easter exercises. It is expected to be a grand day. Come all as the meeting should be well attended.

The Sentinel published at Scottsville, Allen county, says:

"We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. R. C. Warren Wednesday and in company with a party of gentlemen had an interesting conversation with him in connection with his race for State Auditor. Mr. Warren is making a canvass of the State in a quiet way and says he is looking for his chief support from Southern and Western Kentucky which section is allied to his own geographically and in spirit. He is a man of fine appearance and engaging manners and displays in his every word and gesture the polished, educated and refined gentleman as well as deep thinker. He believes in the democratic doctrine of rotation in office and if he makes as good an impression in other localities as in this, it will be a very strong man who beats him.

Rumor has it that Jay Gould controls as much as 40 per cent. of the railway mileage of the world. It is understood that he controls five-eights of the Baltimore and Ohio common stock and has an option on the road. Gould by this last deal acquires control of property running up in value to the hundred millions and it is likely no exaggeration to state that half a billion of dollars of railroad stock is now subject to his control and vote.

Fearful power that to be lodged with one man. Any man who has it should be watched very closely.

Many pretty girls—and ugly ones, too—have a fad of biting their underlips and licking their upper ones to make them look rosy and fresh, but when you see one walking pigeon-toed along Fourth street, with a look of mingled pain and pride in her face, and with about an inch of her underlip seized with a deadly grip between her teeth, you can bet and win, in seven cases out of ten, that she has made a painful mistake in trying to squeeze a pair of No. 6 feet into a pair of high-heeled No. 4 shoes.—Louisville Times.

"Lige," said the president, with a chuckle, "we've got the democrats in a hole now."

"In what respect, sir?"

"It's been decided out in Ohio that the world is coming to an end in '91. Tee-hee-hee! There ain't a-goin' to be any '92"—Puck.

"I am ashamed of you, my dear," said Chipace, severely. "The idea of a strong healthy woman like you being afraid of a mouse!"

"I should have better nerves, love," said Mrs. Chipace, "if I had accustomed myself to bucking tigers, as you have done."

Reform the tariff, reduce the revenues, relieve the industry of the people, and as a consequence expenses are reduced, simplicity returns, a new impetus is given to industry; the burdens of labor are lessened, and every man retains the largest possible proportion of his earnings.

Love and War: Spatts—It is said that all is fair in love and war, but there is one great difference between them. Slobber-bumper—What is it? Spatts—In love the fighting does not begin until after the engagement is over.—New York Sun.

Sharpson (grinding out verses)—"I want a suitable rhyme for chains," Phlatz—"What's the matter with brains?" "Can't use it. I'm writing a poem entitled 'The Cigarette Smoker.'"—Chicago Tribune.

Mr. Graves has just received, at Birmingham, Eng., a letter addressed and posted to him in Stanford, July, 1856. It doubtless bore a quick delivery stamp and fell in the hands of a messenger boy.—Lou. Times.

Too Far Away: First Banker—What sort of a man is your cashier? Second Banker—He is beyond reproach. First Banker—Indeed! Second Banker—Yes, he reached Canada last night.—Munsey's Weekly.

The Onondaga Indians, though but five miles from Syracuse, N. Y., are yet in an uncivilized condition. They number in all 400 souls, and among them are 26 lazy chiefs.
